Join our team!

As an innovative company in the field of geomarketing, datamining and risk management in Africa, it is one of our continuous goals to describe markets and target groups comprehensively, accurately and near to reality. We support financial industries in the digital transformation and Risk management and SME in the implementation and successful placement of mid-cap bonds.

We are currently looking for a period of 3 Months

an internship as data collector Geomarketing m/f

Your Task:

Collect from various sources like INS, CADASTRE, ….

- Market data about people and corporations: the prevalent family structures, purchasing power, education and many other factors.
- Mobility data: information about pedestrians, vehicles of all kinds, public transport a different area in yaounde.
- Geo data: area, hunting grounds, industry concentration across the country , courses of roads, city boundaries, location of buildings, public development plans, but also informations like purchasing power by boroughs, streets, or single housing units

The Goal of the Project is to build a solid database with all these information.

Your profile:

- Study of economics (science eco)
- joy in dealing with numbers
- proactive
- passion for internet research
- knowledge in the construction of databases is an asset.

We offer you:

- Diverse and exciting tasks
- Active accompaniment of the digital transformation in the marketing and financial industry
- An open team culture with common goals
- A corporate culture characterized by openness, dynamism and internationality
- A very pleasant working atmosphere with committed colleagues

Please send your detailed application documents stating your desired salary and the earliest possible starting date at info@riskdataconslt.com before the 20.06.2019